Volleyball Player Ratings

The purpose of player ratings is to rate the skills of each player in order to put together competitive and balanced teams. It is highly recommended every player attend the player rating day so that teams can be as balanced as possible. Though this is not a "perfect" system, it is a fair system and the best method available. How player ratings work: Players will go through a series of five or six drills and are rated on a scale of 1-5. Total scores are tallied and all players are sorted according to age and gender. Players are then placed onto the number of allotted teams according to their player rating score. Why it's not perfect: Not all registered players attend player ratings. The league has no idea what kind of skill a player has if they don't attend. These players are then given an "average" rating of those of the same age that did attend player ratings. This means that an unrated player could be an excellent player but is assigned an average rating and makes the team better than others. Or, the opposite could happen, a below-average player could get an average rating and the team might not be as skilled.
